A GOOD WORK.—Editors Constitution: The Ladies' Sewing Society of the Central Presbyterian Church, organized by their efficient and good pastor, Rev. J. T. Leftwich, a little more than two years ago, aided by the members of the Church, erected a monument to the memory of their former pastor and built a substantial iron fence around "the Lord's holy temple." "By their fruits (works) ye shall be known." They will give a mission Sunday School Festival at the Austell Building near the Kimball House, on Tuesday evening next. They do not propose to annoy their friends by making personal appeals for aid, and will, as they have heretofore done, rely on those who may feel inclined to make voluntary contributions by Tuesday morning, and give all the aid and encouragement they can. Heretofore liberal contributions have been made, and they have been liberally patronized. They now propose to do all they can for the Mission Sunday School, a co ordinate branch of their church. The Sewing Society and all others who aid in this laudable enterprise, will be casting bread upon the waters, to be gathered up many days hence. Many will spring around them and call them blessed, and when they go to that bourne from hence no traveler returns, they will reap that rich reward in store for all such. "So mote it be." P.

SKIFF & GAYLORD.—This choice company will begin an engagement at DeGive's to-night. Sam Gardner and Charles Monroe, in fact the entire company, are too well known to require newspaper commendation. To those who desire to be much amused, and to indulge in hearty laughter, we would say be sure to attend their performance.

AT HOME.—His Honor, Mayor James, has returned to the city.

The decorations were draped in mourning for Charles M. Lumpkin. The "runs" were made by the companies in splendid time. At night a splendid collation and ball was given at Dupree's Hall. The Greeley Ticket in Floyd County.

ROME, GA., May 17, 1872.

Editors Constitution: I have been spending a few days of leisure in this city, and have had an opportunity to see and to converse with many of the citizens of Rome and of Floyd county in reference to the nominees of the late Liberal Republican Convention in Cincinnati, and I here take occasion to express my surprise at the unanimity of sentiment favorable to the election of said nominees as the best thing under present circumstances that can possibly be done to bring about a peaceful solution of our political difficulties and a restoration of good government.

I am myself fully in sympathy with this desire of the people to see and to aid in the election of Greeley and Brown to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States. And I have no hesitation in declaring that no blunder could be more fatal to the best interests of the South, and of our common country, than the nomination of a Democratic ticket and the application of the party lash to dragoon us into its support.

I would say to leading politicians, step aside this one time and leave the people untrameled to vote their honest convictions, and all will be right. Don't dictate, nor threaten, nor coerce, but rather on the contrary, on this occasion look to the people as your leaders and follow them. They are right in this instance. They have been taught in the school of adversity and oppression and they know for themselves what is best for us now.

The liberal party North have offered for our acceptance a good platform, embracing the great underlying principles recognized and taught by Thomas Jefferson, and which if honestly maintained, is all the South could reasonably ask.

Yours very truly,

J. A. STEWART.

South Carolina State Democratic Convention, June 11th.

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Greeley and Brown have established their headquarters at St. Mories hotel, Washington, until the Congressional organization for the campaign is perfected. All communications may be addressed to John J. Defrees, at the above place. Lists of names are requested. Documents, speeches, etc., will be forwarded from their headquarters to all parts of the country.

A special states that the fires in Pike county, Pennsylvania, covered a surface of seven miles. The lumber district suffered heavily. Three lumber settlements and twelve saw mills were destroyed. The loss will reach one-fourth of a million.

The fires in Wayne county stopped the coal trains on the Deleware and Hudson Railroad. Only three houses are left in the lumber villages of Carter and Gould. Large tracts of wood land were burned over in Sussex county, New Jersey, Sullivan and Delaware counties New York, and Monroe county, Pennsylvania. The total losses by all these fires cannot fall short of a million dollars. The rain of last night and this morning extinguished the flames in all directions. The village of Tobihanna, Pennsylvania, which was in great danger, has been saved.

The new cotton warehouses at Atlantic Dock, Brooklyn were formally opened yesterday afternoon.

A meeting of over one thousand journeymen carpenters was held to-night to receive an answer from the bosses to their proposition of three dollars and a half and eight hours per day. A deputation from the working men waited upon a meeting of the bosses, and returned with a report that the bosses were to hold a general meeting on Monday, and that an answer was expected to be favorable. The deputation assured the men that the bosses were completely outgeneraled. Tremendous cheering was caused by this announcement.

Delegations from the plumbers, bricklayers and German cabinet makers give notice that they were to strike next week for similar terms.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—About half past six this morning a fire broke out in a building, on Dock street, near Third street. Six stories of the two granite fronts, built by the late Dr. Jayne, and adjoining his building recently burned, was the building occupied by the large Leizering printing establishment, and a number of book binders, etc., were totally des royed. Loss not ascertained yet. Five stories of the brown stone building, adjoining the building occupied by the Commercialist newspaper, was crushed by the falling wall and entirely destroyed. Jayne's building was, for several years, used as the Philadelphia post office, and for some years for the exhibitions of the Franklin institute. It was one of the handsomest granite buildings in the city. At 9 P. M. the fire was under control, and it is thought, will not spread any further.

Unprecedented rain. The easten portion of the city is flooded four feet. Four were drowned.

Humors of the Campaign—A Supposition Veto From H. G.

From the Chicago Post.]

"An act to raise revenue by imposing a duty of ten cents a ton on guano."

COMMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

I return this obnoxious measure without my approval. The man who introduced it is an ass; the men who voted for it are scheming British agents and the men who say this is not the case are liars and horse thieves. I judge that, on an average, every man, woman and child in America uses a ton of guano a year in some shape or other; whether as the farmer in New York, Louisiana, Colorado, Podunk, etc., in agriculture, or as Charles A. Dana for editorial articles. We thus consume, in round figures, 40,000,000 of tons of guano annually. The arbitrary and revolutionary act which I veto to-day would thus impose a tax of $4,000,000 a year on our people. With what effect? It would not stimulate the production of American guano. American birds could not compete with the pauper labor birds in debauched and priest ridden Central America. I am not quite sure as to what I mean or why it is not so, or what is which, but the man who speaks to the contrary is a hell hound and bribed by British gold. H. G.

A Western traveller came up to a log cabin and asked for a drink, which was supplied by a good looking woman. As she was the first woman he had seen in several days, he offered her a dime for a kiss. It was duly taken and paid for, and the young hostess, who had never seen a dime before, looked at it a moment with some curiosity, then asked what she should do with it. He replied what she chose, as it was hers. "If that's the case," said she, "you may take it back and give me another kiss."

A sculptor was engaged to carve a monument and select an epitaph for a deceased manufacturer of fireworks. He saw this inscription on the tombstone of a celebrated musician, "He has gone to the place where only his own harmony can be exceeded," and thinking it was a very neat thing, adapted it to his purpose by changing one word, and carved on the monument: "He has gone to the place where only his own fireworks can be exceeded."

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are indispensable. Rejected communications we cannot undertake either to return or preserve.

Comptroller's Report.

Major Bell, our friend, and the faithful Comptroller General of the State, has our thanks for a copy of his report for the year 1871. It was printed by the new Public Printer, W. A. Hemphill. Its typographical execution cannot be excelled, while it contains much valuable information as regards the disbursements of the finances of the State. Mountain Signal.

Out of the Business.

These editors around the State are abusing us for not answering to the toast of "The Ladies," to which duty we were assigned at the Press Banquet. For once and for all we announce that we are out of that business. We have quit complimenting ladies in general. We quit it on the 5th of last October. We value our peace of mind too much to keep it up. (Papers friendly to the cause will please copy this announcement.)—Rome Commercial.

Of course we copy. But you can't get off that easy. Henceforth you and Harris must forever moan in the original solitude of his celibacious mosquito net, vitalized and companionated alone by the melancholy and cadaverous cadence of the terrific curtain lecture.

Georgia Crop News.

Warren county—Some good cotton stands, some bad, no stands at all in other places. No rain. Not enough corn planted to hurt. Fruit tolerable, says the Warrenton Clipper.

Talbot county—Rain needed dreadfully. farmers wear long faces. One planter stopped plows for dryness. Birds injuring wheat, said the Standard.

The Columbus Enquirer says the crops on the Southwestern Road never looked more promising. Late showers came in time.

Campbell county—Rust in wheat and half crop probable. Cotton come up badly, not more than two-thirds. Oats look bad. says the Gazette. Rain needed.

Merriwether county—Corn almost ceased growing. Cotton dying fast. Drought stopped farming operations. Fruit trees laden, says a correspondent of the LaGrange Reporter.

Judge Davis as a Democratic Candidate.

The Savannah Republican is out flat-footed against Greeley, and advises the nomination of Davis and Hancock by the Baltimore Convention, on a platform that truly represents the opinions and sentiments of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans, including a plank in favor of revenue tariff.

This thing of advising the Democracy to take, as a Democratic candidate, a Republican office holder, and long-time Radical like Davis, who still clings to his Republicanism, and at the same time make such wry faces at Greeley is a very queer thing to us. Now we can understand how an uncompromising Democrat like our friend Willingham, who has refused to take any sort of Republicanism in his, and he stands nearly alone in this, should go against Greeley and be for the nomination of a straight-out Democratic nomination. But for the life of us we can't see the propriety of throwing over Greeley to swallow another Republican equally as objectionable, particularly when such a course throws away the whole value of a coalition with Liberal Republicans to overthrow centralism and its prophet, Grant.

No Republican can carry the Republican strength that Greeley can, for the simple reason that he is the candidate of the Liberal Republican movement; and has pledged to him already that element of the party.

If therefore it is a question of the Democracy taking a Republican, Greeley is the strongest man it can get.

If the Democrats make a nomination, and there should be most powerful reasons for not doing so, it does seem to us that a genuine Democrat, like Parker or Hancock or some such man, should be chosen, and not a Republican like Davis, who is not a whit more palatable than Greeley, and not as strong.

If the rigid rule is relaxed, and the policy of heading the ticket with a Republican is declared the thing to be done, why let us take the man who has the organized section of Liberal Republicans to back him.

Otherwise, it does seem to us that we had better go whole Democratic.

The Democratic Greeley Meeting.

The Greeley meeting last night was a failure. Over half of the audience was composed of Democrats who went to look on and did not sympathize with the call, while many who considered themselves invited have never been regarded as Democrats, and some who seemed to take a deep interest, were well known Radicals.—Sun of Sunday.

The above, in our judgment, is unjust to the many worthy Democrats engaged in getting up and carrying out said meeting. Some of the soundest and purest men of the Democratic party were engaged in it, men above reproach, men devoted to Constitutional government, men ardently patriotic and worthy of respect.

The Sun also speaks of the call thus:

A portion of the signers of the call for all persons opposed to a Democratic nomination for President, met last evening at the Capitol.

This is a most serious misrepresentation. The call was not for "all persons" opposed to a Democratic nomination, but for Democrats thus opposed. The call was by Democrats alone, for Democrats only, and was purely a Democratic meeting. And the gentlemen engaged in it exhibited their Democratic allegiance by declaring with their belief of the inexpediency of making a Democratic nomination their hearty purpose to abide the action of the national party convention.

These gentlemen did what the Sun has been lustily calling for, viz: express their views. The attempt to misrepresent and ridicule them by those differing with them is, in our opinion, an unpardonable wrong, against which we protest.

We can the more properly say this because THE CONSTITUTION took no part in the meeting. It was not a movement of the whole party, but only a statement of view by a portion of the party who pledged themselves to stand by the party convention. It was the honest contribution of a section of the party to a harmonious formation of the party policy.

The effort to pervert and distort it into a Radical movement was a wrong to the worthy gentlemen engaged and a blow at the harmony of the party. They assumed to represent nobody but themselves, and to bind nobody at all. Their action was purely advisory. And they had just as much right to say they think the course they recommend the right one as the Sun to recommend the opposite course.

While we desire to see the fullest investigation, discussion and reflection, we do hope that Democrats will be respectful, tolerant and liberal to one another. Many serious differences of opinion exist, and men are honest in these differences. By avoiding dogmatism and arrogance, by cultivating courtesy and toleration, by refraining from absolute pledges of conduct, by holding individual view subordinate to the aggregate judgment, and by universally agreeing to stand by the party action, the harmony of the organization can be preserved and its success insured. And only in this way can we do so.

The Leaders on the Greeley Ticket.

Ex-Governor English, Democrat of Connecticut, is quite undecided as to the wisest course for the Democracy, but wants Grant beaten.

Ex-Secretary Gideon Welles thinks that putting three tickets in the field ensures Grant's election.

Judge Sandford E. Church, of New York, was in favor of the New York Convention speaking encouragingly of the Cincinnati action, and also thinks the mass of the Democrats ready to go for Greeley.

Charles Sumner says he can't support Grant, and thinks Greeley will crush out Grant. He has been perfectly neutral, but will go for Greeley if only Greeley and Grant are in the field.

Ex-President Fillmore referred a reporter to one Mr. Ganson for his views. Mr. Ganson thought Mr. Greeley would be indorsed at Baltimore, and if so indorsed had little doubt of the result.

Four Irish Catholic papers in New York are against Greeley.

Governor Geary, of Pennsylvania, thought it too early to form an idea of the popular feeling in his State.

The Democratic editors of New Orleans have resolved to wait the action of the State and National Conventions before indorsing Greeley.

The Nebraska Democracy is reported in favor of Greeley.

In Kentucky, twenty-one Democratic papers declare for Greeley; twenty-five stand in readiness to abide the action of the Baltimore Convention, and three are for a straight-out Democratic nomination.

The Macon Telegraph and Messenger is opposed to a Democratic nomination.

A majority of the Pennsylvania Democratic papers call for a Democratic nomination.

Judge A. P. Aldrich, of South Carolina, is for Greeley.

At a conference of the Maine State Democratic Executive Committee it was determined to support Greeley.

Ex-Senator James R Doolittle writes that if Grant is renominated his advice is for the Democracy to help Greeley.

The Chicago Times has a list of 29 leading Democratic papers for Greeley, 44 against him, and 90 for waiting for the Baltimore Convention to act.

The Washington Chronicle is responsible for this:

"Judge Davis says that he has retired from politics, that he will not be a candidate for President before the Democratic Convention, and that he shall recommend the working men to support General Grant."

The New York World and Mr. Stephens.

Several times in the course of the last year has Mr. Stephens denounced the New York World as a traitor to the Democratic party, bent on defeating a sound Democrat on a pure Democratic platform, and working to secure the triumph of Republican principles through some candidate who is really a Centralist. He so denounced the World for its New Departure positions. He so denounced it for pulling the Belmont wagon, and also for trying to force Mr. Adams on the Cincinnati Convention, with the attempted committal of the Democracy to his support.

We believe we do not misrepresent Mr. Stephens in this statement of his assaults upon the World. We do not wish to do so. While we are not prepared to charge premeditated treachery against the World, we have never regarded that paper, though a very able one, as a safe adviser. And we certainly do not regard Mr. Belmont as a proper man to be Chairman of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

Our purpose in alluding to Mr. Stephens' often and plainly expressed opinion of the purpose and policy of the World is to solicit respectfully his view of the World's present position, and to ask whether that position is or is not taken to carry out its determined programme, according to Mr. Stephens' judgment of thwarting a Democratic victory, and securing the election of a Centralist.

The World has bitterly opposed Greeley's support by the Democracy. In its issue of the 17th, in a labored editorial, it goes so far as to declare the support of Greeley by the Democratic party "a moral, social, political and economical impossibility."

Now, we ask not captiously, but in square earnest, for information, is not the World's opposition to Greeley indicative that it thinks his election will be a defeat of the Centralists? Or does Mr. Stephens think the World has become suddenly virtuous?

If Mr. Stephens is right that the World has been long playing a purposely traitorous part to the Democracy, then does it seem to us that its fierce unmeasured opposition to Greeley is in furtherance of that part and is a recommendation of Greeley to the Democracy so far as it is concerned.

If the World has been really on a traitorous programme, is'nt its antagonism to Greeley a part of that programme?

The New York Democratic Resolutions.

The Democratic party of the State of New York, assembled in regular convention to select delegates to a national convention to be held at Baltimore, to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President, declare and resolve:

That we recognize the changes in the nature and constitution of the Government which have taken place, and without re-opening the questions of the past, are ready now to co-operate with those, whatever their previous party affiliations, who favor limited and localized governments, who seek to restrain the exercise by Congress of absolute and general powers; to prevent its entering on general private legislation; to restrain the growth of vast corporations, and to work a permanent civil service reform. And be it further

Resolved, That the recent declaration of political principles by the Convention of Cincinnati is evidence of the progress of public opinion toward sound and wholesome views of government; that we believe all patriotic citizens may unite upon that platform for the purpose of restoring the honest administration of national affairs, and enforcing the obligations of the Constitution; and our delegates to Baltimore are instructed to take the course best calculated to secure the triumph of these principles, and the election of any candidate representing them who shall meet the approval of the Democracy in National Convention assembled.

☞ It is a gift to be born rich in the eyes and ears. Some men have carried before them an endless procession of beauty. There are charms for them where others perceive barrenness. There is a concert in the air all the time for those whose ears are tuned aright. Trees harp for them; winds roll their tones musically; birds and insects fill up the orchestra.—Henry Ward Beecher.

GREELEY.

NEW YORK CITY, May 13, 1872.

Editors Constitution: You perhaps remember the anecdote of the rebel captured in the early days of the late war, who refused to take the oath of allegiance to the "best government under the sun," whereupon his brave captors threatened to bury him alive, and went manfully to work digging a hole in the ground for that purpose. He stood looking on stoically and sorrowfully. The grave was nearly finished; again the oath was urged with "down on your knees and take it." With head erect and arms folded my countryman's reply was: "Go on with your d—d old funeral." He had never bowed his knees except to God.

The recent nomination of candidates for the Presidency of these United States show to me a collapsing tendency of this Grant and grand Republic. "Those whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad," (crazy, I reckon the Post meant.) Grant is bad enough, we have tried him and know his weakness. But the editor of the "Fanatical Tribune," certainly no Southern born man could vote for him—our direct enemy. What if the fantastic, whimsical looking man, with the masked white hat stuck on the back of his head, short pants and white coat, did put his name on the bail bond for Jeff. Davis?

Mr. Greeley, in my humble opinion, did more to bring on the war than any man living. His reputation has been made by abuse of the Southern cotton planters. His admirers call him 'Honest Old Horace." He may be honest in his convictions against us, but that only makes him the more to be dreaded, for it made him dangerous. General Grant, I have no doubt, read the Tribune and believed the horrible Ku-Klux stories, (invented in the most instances by the indefatigable correspondents of that journal for the appetites of the readers of the paper,) and then, too, Mr. Akerman's personal investigation of the "infested districts," his "raw head and bloody bones" accounts. These things, combined, were enough to make General Grant urge the Ku-Klux bill in the cause of black humanity. But after all, what does it matter to the Southern planter who is President of the United States. Our worthiest citizens have no voice in the elections. They only have the taxes to pay. The President seems to me to be only a tool in the hands of Congress, for should he give way to one generous impulse, and have a desire to act justly towards the South, what would be the consequences? He would be impeached and called a Rebel sympathizer. So to change Gen. Grant for Greeley would literally be "hopping out of the frying pan into the fire" so far as the South is concerned. Progress and proscription seem to be the politics of the day. Mrs. Victoria Woodhull represents progress, and the Tribune editor proscription. By birth and education I am only a "Georgia cracker." Perhaps it is my ignorance, but these new-fangled women and men, with their "spirits of Demosthenes," and Cincinnatus, going about with them all the time, rather disgust me, but to-day I would, although I have not the honor of knowing Mrs. W., I would rather see her President than Mr. Greeley. These two wonderful people in opposition to each other will be the death of this Republic, and fizzle it out to a "monstrous ridiculosity," a Punch and Judy show." Mr. Sumner, I believe, coined "ridiculosity," and I find it so fitting to use in expressing my thoughts and in saying, that I confess I am lacking in what is called "patriotism." In my heart it died some years ago, but I live over its ashes and rake them unceasingly, believing that the day will surely come when we will have a country we can proudly call our own, and for which we would again give up our kindred to fill bloody graves, and look again with tearless eyes upon our young children crying for food while the house that sheltered us is being burned to ashes.

"For the love of liberty with live itself is given,
And life itself the inferior gift of Heaven."

Let the South retain the position she now occupies, "masterly inactivity." Let Politics alone, and we will yet live to see our wildest dreams for the future realized. I may be an enthusiast and fanatic, but I love my people and section. Charlton's beautiful lines to Georgia often comes up to me.

"My native State, my cherished home,
Hallowed alike by smile and tear—
May Glory o'er thee build her dome
And Fame her temples rear.
I love thee for the burning suns
Neath which my feet have ever trod:
I love thee for the forms that lie
Cold, cold beneath thy sod."

In my letter some months ago I told you the amnesty bill was dead. All attempts so far to put life into it has been futile. And to-day the telegraph brings us news of the "collapse of the treaty," so the Alabama claims are no nearer settlement than at the end of the civil war. Time, the "gray calm satirist," will make all right. The South can afford to await patiently the result.

WHITFIELD COUNTY LETTER.

Marriages---Catoosa Springs---New Telegraph.

DALTON, GA., May 17, 1872.

Editors Constitution: On last evening it was the lot of this young city to lose two of her fair and lovely daughters, a Miss Knight and a Miss Harbin. The event thoroughly aroused all the young people of the city, Miss Knight fell a victim to Mr. Walden, of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, and Miss Harbin to Mr. Miller, of the Dalton Brass Band. They were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony in the Baptist Church at 7 o'clock P. M., by the Rev. Mr. Lofton, pastor. After which the grooms with their lovely brides made their way to the general passenger depot where they were followed and met by their friends and the curious.

While awaiting the arrival of the State Road train, the Dalton Brass Band, as a congratulation to its member just made so happy, appeared on the ground and discoursed some charming music, while the happy parties received the hearty congratulations of their friends and the scrutinizing gazes of the curious. But the arrival of the train soon broke up the hearty greetings here, and the adventurers into a new life took passage for Macon, where, it is hoped, they will spend a happy honeymoon.

Catoosa Springs will soon be opened for the reception of visitors, and, from what I can learn, neither pains nor money has been spared in fitting them up with all the accommodations and conveniences that the most fastidious could wish.

The Western and Atlantic Railroad Company is just finishing up a magnificent depot at the old Catoosa platform site, for the accommodation of visitors on their way to the Springs. It is well and conveniently arranged with washing, dressing and sitting rooms, etc., which proves that Mr. M. H. Dooly, the able Supervisor of the road, knows how to look after the comfort and convenience of the ladies as well as railroads.

Mr. J. C. Courtney, the efficient and gentlemanly Superintendent of the Western and Atlantic Railroad Telegraph Company, will commence the survey of a route for a Telegraph line to the Springs to-morrow morning. He informed me that he would have the line up and in operation by the first of June.

The rain to-day is cheering to the farmers, who began to feel anxious about their crops, especially their wheat, which is just in that stage that rain is badly needed on it. The prospect for a continuance of showers is good.

TRAVELER.

SWEARING IN A NEGRESS AS A LAWYER.—A Washington paper gives the following account of the initiation into practice of the first female lawyer in the District of Columbia: "Yesterday afternoon Miss Charlotte E. Ray, a graduate of the Law College of Harvard University, made her appearance in the Clerk's office of the Supreme Court of the District. Mr. Meigs, Jr., ever courteous and obliging to all visitors, politely requested to know her business, whereupon she thrust into his hand her diploma.

Mr. Meigs read it with puzzled expression of countenance, and in a kind of dazed manner took up the Testament and duly administered to Miss Charlotte, who is a dusky and intelligent looking mulatto, the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, not to defraud her clients, and not to talk too much. Miss Charlotte afterward was furnished with the necessary certificate, after which she went on her way rejoicing as a full fledged limb of the law."

TO KEEP FLIES FROM BUTTER.—The Meridian Gazette is responsible for the following:

"An experienced house-keeper tells a contemporary that flies may be kept out of the butter plate on the table by a simple and novel expedient by planting in it a thick slice of bread, cut column-wise and inserted in a perpendicular position. Whether the bread scares off the flies or not the lady cannot say, but she declares it certainly keeps them off."

Meeting of Citizens of Oglethorpe County.

Editors Constitution: A meeting of the citizens of Oglethorpe county, Georgia, was held in the court house at Lexington, Tuesday, May 14, 1872, for the purpose of giving public expression to the feelings of the community on the death of Dr. Willis Willingham.

Jas. S. Sims, M. D., was called to the chair, and W. H. Foster, M. D., was requested to act as Secretary.

On motion, a committee consisting of the following named citizens was appointed to draft suitable resolutions for the consideration of the meeting: Hon. Joseph H. Echols, Rev. John G. Gibson, Arthur Haire, Esq., Henry Kinnebrew, M. D., W. H. Foster, M. D. After a short absence the committee returned and submitted the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst by death our friend and fellow citizen, Dr. Willis Willingham; and

Whereas, We, as citizens of the county in which the deceased passed a long, useful and highly honorable life, deem it to be eminently right and proper to give public expression to our high appreciation of the character of our deceased friend; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. Willis Willingham, Oglethorpe county mourns the loss of one of her most honorable, useful and trusted citizens and most skillful physicians; a citizen whose high character and unbending integrity has caused his name, wherever it was spoken, to become the synonym for honor.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere condolence to the bereaved family of our deceased friend.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be transmitted to the Augusta Constitutionalist and Chronicle and Sentinel and THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and Sun, with the request that they publish the same.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

On motion of Hon. J. D. Matthews the resolutions were adopted.

Very feeling and impressive addresses were delivered on the energetic life and high moral character of the deceased.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Davis and Mr. Greeley--A Truthful Scrap of History.

The accompanying communication comes from a source of the most unquestionable authenticity, and reflects honor upon the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention. No true Southron can peruse it with unmoistened eye, and the rebuke to Mr. Voorhees is most withering and complete:—Macon Telegraph.

Editors Telegraph and Messenger: Mr. Voorhees, in his recent attack on Mr. Greeley, styled his signing of Mr. Davis' bond "an impertinent interference." Allow me to give you the true history of that matter as I recently learned it in New York, from a gentleman who knew all about it. Mrs. Davis went to New York to consult Charles O'Connor, Mr. Davis' counsel, as to the best manner of effecting his release from prison. Mr. O'Connor told her that in his opinion there was but one way that it could be done, and that was to get the representative man of the Republican party to sign his bond. Mrs. Davis inquired who that man was. Mr. O'Connor replied that it was Horace Greeley. She then asked him if he would see Mr. Greeley and get him to do it. He replied that he had no influence with Mr. Greeley, and that she was the proper person to see him. She said she would go and see him. She went to his office, sent in her card and was invited into his private office. She said to him: "Mr. Greeley, my husband is confined in a casemate at Fortress Monroe. He has been there for many long, weary months. He is a feeble old man, and he is gradually sinking under his rigorous imprisonment. He will die if he remains there much longer. I came here to consult Mr. O'Connor as to the means of getting him released. He has told me that there is but one way to do it, and that is to get the representative man of the Republican party to sign his bond, and says that you are that man. He has advised me to apply to you. He says that you have a kind heart, and that you will do it if you believe it to be right. My husband is dying. Mr. Greeley, may I hope that you will favorably consider my application."

Mr. Greeley arose, extended his hand to Mrs. Davis, and said: "Madam, you may, for I will sign his bond." Mr. Greeley was then a prominent candidate before the Legislature for the United States Senate. Some of his friends heard that he had agreed to sign Mr. Davis' bond. They went to him and protested against it They told him that they had made a count, and that he would be elected by six majority, but that if he signed this bond, it would defeat him. He replied, "I know it will." They told him that he was one of the owners of the Tribune, and if he signed this bond he would lose thousands of subscribers. He replied, "I know it." They said, "Mr. Greeley, you have written a history of the war, one volume you have out, and have sold large numbers of it. Your second volume is nearly out and you have large orders for that. If you sign this bond, these orders will be countermanded and you will lose a large amount of money." He replied, "Gentlemen, I know it, but it is right and I'll do it." He did do it, and I am informed that he lost a seat in the United States Senate, and over thirty thousand dollars.

To my mind this does not look like "impertinent interference."

Whereas, The House is informed by telegraph that at a meeting of the Exeter Chamber of Commerce, Sir Stafford Northcote, who presided, in a speech stated that the understanding of the British Commissioners was, that a promise had been given that the claim for indirect damages should not be presented, but it was necessary that the American Senate should not be placed in a position requiring a confession that wrong had been done, which statement by a leading member of the Joint High Commission, on the part of Great Britain, deeply concerns the good faith and integrity of the American Commissioners and of the good as well as the honor of the nation thereof; be it

Resolved, That the President of the United States is hereby requested, if not detrimental to the public interest, to inform the House whether the Executive has any knowledge of any promise being made by any official person that the claims for indirect damages shall not be presented to the arbitration tribunal, and if so, by whom was such promise made or understanding given, and if any, what arrangement was made with the British Commission to the British government by which the American Senate should not be placed in a position requiring a confession that wrong had been done, or whether any arrangement whatever has been made with the government of Great Britain or any official thereof, by which the action of the American Senate was to be controlled, or influenced in this behalf, and if so, by whom and when and by whose authority such arrangement was made.

While the House was dividing, Cox said the honor of our country is involved in this resolution. If there has been a dishonorable humiliation, let us know the worst and who is responsible.

The motion to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution was rejected by yeas, 109; nays 78—less than two-thirds in the affirmative.

The resolution was then referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

In the Senate extension of suspension of the writ of habeas corpus occupied the entire day, and is pending to-night.

IN MEMORIAM.

The following was adopted on Sunday, May 19th, by the Union Sunday School at Stone Mountain:

Your committee feel oppressed by the fact that language will fail them in the effort to express their pangent sorrow at the loss, during the past year, of two of the best teachers—in life, in walk and example as well as precept—in this school.

Sister E. Lou Cloud was a woman of more than ordinary character. In her heart was written the law of kindness, and her lips conveyed no harsh word. Love radiated from her countenance and attracted all toward her, especially the young, who, in her, ever found a counsellor and friend. She taught by her walk and conversation practically what she did in precept theoretically. Firm in her attachments, she was a lasting friend; frugal and industrious, she was a model wife. Loving everybody, she was loved by all, and though suffering protracted and excruciating pain, no murmur of discontent, no sigh of despondency, no diminution of faith marked her "slow ebbing away." Throughout all she illustrated the power and beauty of christian faith, humility, unshaken confidence and abiding trust in the Lamb of God.

A cloud lay cradled near the setting sun,
A gleam of crimson tinged its braided snow;
Long had I watched the glory moving on,
O'er the still radience of the lake below;
Tranquil its spirit seemed and floated slow,
Even in its very motion there was rest;
While every breath of eve that chanced to blow,
Wafted the traveller to the beauteous west.
Emblem, methought, of the departed soul,
To whose white robe the gleam of bliss is given,
And by the breath of Mercy made to roll
Right onwards to the golden gates of heaven,
Where to the eye of faith it peaceful lies
And tells to man his glorious destinies.

Miss Clarinda Butler was a devoted, earnest and active worker in the vineyard. She possessed strength of character, and an unalterable love of the truth in Christ Jesus. She was noted for her kindness of heart, and was loved and revered by all, young and old. Her class will never forget her love for them and the Sunday School work.

Both of these teachers loved the work for their Master's sake.

To the members of this school, and their family and friends, we would say let us kiss the rod that smites us, and acquiesce in this dispensation of a loving heavenly Father who doeth all things well; even though we cannot now comprehend Him in the dark cloud of his doings, let us clasp the hand that lovingly reaches down to us and draw consolation from the fact that He leadeth us

There, though thou bend my Spirit low,
Love only shall I see,
The very hand that strikes the blow
Was wounded once for me.

Let us imitate them in their zeal, in their efficiency, in their love, in their humility, in their Godly walk, and be bright and shining lights in the Sunday School cause, and we too may expect, by God's mercy, to meet them on the banks of Sweet Deliverance.

Resolved, That this School, as a memento of our respect for the deceased, decorate their graves on Sunday next with flowers, and annually thereafter on the fourth Sunday in May.

Messrs. ANDERSON & WELLS,

We have seen the OHIO REAPER AND MOWER in successful operation in this county, mowing, and take very great pleasure in recommending it to the farmers in this section of Georgia.

It is emphatically a labor-saving machine, and we consider it an invaluable acquisition to the agricultural interest of our country. One need only to see it in a field of Wheat, Clover, or Oats, to be satisfied that it comes fully up to all that is claimed by the inventor.

REV. DAVID SHAVER, D.D., OF ATLANTA. No man in the Convention has a clearer head or fuller brain than Dr. Shaver. He was born in Southwest Virginia, and began life a Protestant Methodist preacher. After a change of church relations, he became pastor of the Grace Street Baptist Church of Richmond, and attained great celebrity as a preacher and pastor. Owing to a throat affection he has not been a pastor for several years, but has served his generation in the honorable and useful position of editor.

For a series of years he was editor of the Religious Herald, the organ of the Virginia Baptists, and is now editor in chief of the Christian Index, a paper which represents the Baptists of Georgia, Alabama, Florida and a part of Tennessee. As a chaste, vigorous and brilliant writer Dr. Shaver has no superior, if he has an equal in Southern religious journalism. Many of his articles are equal in polish of style, beauty of illustration and richness of matter to the best things of the best English Reviews.

We know of no man, of whom we could more safely predict a book that would live, and we sincerely hope he will leave the world a more permanent litery inheritance than his excellent but fugitive newspaper articles.—Raleigh (N. C.) News.

POMOLOGICAL.—The Pomological Society met Saturday. The attendance was largely increased. Dr. J. P. Logan and W. H. Thurmond were elected active, and A. C. Van Epps and —— Grigsby, honorary members.

The Treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $22 70.

The question of selecting a subject for discussion at the next meeting was discussed.

President Wallace thought that "soil food for fruits" was an important one. He was taking measures to supply food to his pear trees.

Dr. S. Hape suggested as seasonable the discussion of the soil food, cultivation and varieties of strawberries and cherries.

Dr. W. P. Pattillo remarked that the fruit on his peach trees were stung by insects and asked if it was incidental to the season?

J. Norcross remarked that his cherries were not productive this season and wanted to know the cause

Colonel R. Baugh thought the use of old iron supplied soil food to cherries. They needed ferruginous substance which was afforded by iron filings. Copperas, it was stated, was also excellent.

President Wallace stated that he drove twenty nails in a Murrillo sherry tree almost dead, and it was now bearing finely.

On motion the variety of strawberries adapted to this climate and mode of cultivation was selected for discussion at the next meeting.

On motion a general invitation was extended to all fruit raisers to send in specimens for exhibition at the meetings every Saturday.

Dr. S. Hape exhibited the Col. Cheney strawberry, sent out by A. M. Purdy, of Palmyra, N. Y. The fruit exhibited was the first year's. It was a cross between Russell's Prolific and the Triumph de Gand—pistillate—sweet. He exhibited for Dr. J. P. H. Brown, of Augusta, Kentucky and Triumph of America strawberries. He exhibited May Duke cherries from a tree four years old, with about two quarts of cherries on it. The fruit is not as acid as th murillo, and is fine for cooking and eating.

President Wallace exhibited a specimen of the Black currant—a native of Tennessee, hardy, prolific and not affected by frost. He also exhibited an English Gooseberry of unknown variety, and supposed Tennessee seedling, and the White Bigerau and DeKalb cheries. The first was from a tree eight years old. The DeKalb cherry is a native of Fulton, originally DeKalb.

M. Cole exhibited fine specimens of the Gov. Wood, May Duke, and DeKalb cherries. The first is valuable for this climate; the second earliest, and the third a little acid.

The society then adjourned.

New Georgia Bonds for Sale.

STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE, ATLANTA, GA., April 6th, 1872.

The 7 per cent. State bonds, authorized by an Act approved January 18th, 1872, and issued for the purpose of exchange or redemption of old State bonds of Georgia maturing this year, are now ready for disposal according to the provisions of the bill.

Quite a number have already been sold to Georgians at 90 cents, and an opportunity for a few weeks is offered to obtain them at the State Treasury office at the above price, or they will be exchanged for the old bonds falling due, rating the old bonds at par and the new bonds at 90 cents, the State paying a difference of 10 per cent. in cash.

These new bonds are desirable on several accounts

1. They are issued in strict accordance with law.

2. No more are issued than barely enough to take up the old bonds maturing.

3. They are Redemption bonds, which are rated on the stock market as the very best class of securities.

4 The coupon interest will be paid promptly semiannually, either in New York or the State Treasury.

5. They are exempt from State taxation.

Orders for purchase, or bonds for exchange can be sent to the State Treasurer in Atlanta, and will receive prompt attention.

There are strong reasons, for these new bonds being at par in a short time, and it is hoped Georgians will continue to show their appreciation, as has the highest Judicial officer of the State, by purchasing twenty-five thousand dollars for himself.

By the advice and approval of the Governor.
N. L. ANGIER,

THE LAST REBEL YELL.

WHOO-HOOP FOR HORACE!

From the New York Sun]

I'm a rare old reb, with but one leg left,
And I'm afraid I cannot raise as loud a yell
As when I followed Jackson through the Blue Ridge
Or stormed in the mins of Fort Hell.
But the old yell comes,
Though silent are the drums:
Whoo hoop!
(Gray column in the van!)
For the first of the Yanks
Who after we broke ranks,
Behaved like an Uncle and a Man.

We saw his white hat like the color of truce,
Stand up with old Jeff, and for a traitor sign,
We saw how it brought him but spite and abuse
As he poured in our wounds oil and wine.
But the good deeds tell—
Once more the rebel yell:
Whoo-hoop!
(Gray column in the van!)
For the first of the Yanks
Who, after we broke ranks,
Behaved like an Uncle and a Man.

We don't know you folks in that frosty North—
To the Democrats in vain we appealed;
The carpet-bagger still is a snoozing on our hearth,
Like the lizard on the old battle-field.
There is one we trust—
Horace Greeley, the just!
Whoo hoop!
(Gray column in the van!)
For the first of the Yanks
Who, after we broke ranks,
Behaved like an Uncle and a Man.

Our vote is our own; we'll be cheated no more!
Gamble you in old parties who've nothing to lose!
Friend Horace, the farmer! our Southland restore,
And this last rebel yell be the sign of the truce,
And the old yell comes,
Though silent be the drums:
Whoo hoop!
(Gray column in the van!)
For the first of the Yanks
Who, after we broke ranks,
Behaved like an Uncle and a Man.

Reading Notices.

HOW NOT TO DIE.—Thousands fall a prey to disease not because the maladies that affect them are necessarily fatal, but because they lack the requisite amount of active vitality to make a valiant resistance to the enemy. It is a wise precaution to keep the body always in a state of defense—always prepared to "fend off" the germs of epidemic and other disorders, and to baffle the evil influence of damp miasma and sudden thermometrical changes. There is no difficulty in doing this. It is a fact as well authenticated as that two and two make four, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose, and for the simple reason that its invigorating and regulating properties are superior to those of any other medicine in the world. During the twenty years that it has been in general use, ample opportunities have been afforded to compare its medicinal properties with those of other preparations claiming to be of a similar class, and the result has been its adoption by the American people as the standard tonic of the age, its introduction into every civilized portion of the western hemisphere, and an annual sale which dwarfs into insignificance the demand for all its would-be competitors.

The record upon which its popularity rests is a curiosity in medical literature, for it includes an almost unlimited variety of human ailments and disabilities. In fact, no other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues, and it is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine.
may14-deod1w&w1t.

THE cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. may14-d1m.

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, oct2—d1y New York.

HUMANS share with Horses the benefits derivable from the world-renowned Mexican Mustang Liniment. The most irrefragable testimony establishes the fact that this wondrous balm exerts the same soothing and healing influence when applied to the human cuticle, that it does in cases of spavin, founders, ringbone, poll evil, scratches, wind gall and other ailments of the horse which require outward treatment. It is, in fact, the most effectual of all external remedies for rheumatism, gout, stiffness of the neck, neuralgia, sore throat swellings, cuts and bruises of all kinds. may14-deod1w&w1t.

FALSE THEORIES OVERTHROWN.—We live under a new medical dispensation, very different from that under which so many of our forefathers died. The sick are no longer bled till they faint, nor gorged with mercury, nor prostrated with violent cathartics, nor blistered on their shaven heads. Ever since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, twenty years ago, renovation and restoration, not depletion and prostration, have been the watchwords of the judicious portion of the profession. The remarkable success of this famous vegetable preventive, invigorant and corrective has worked a complete revolution in the general treatment of disease. At first the dogmatic members of the faculty would not believe in it. "What!" they exclaimed, "cure liver complaint without mercury, chronic rheumatism without colchicum, fever and ague without quinine! Impossible!" But the most obstinate incredulity must yield in the end to practical demonstration. From that time to the present dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers, muscular diseases, nervous complaints and constipation have vanished under the operation of the great specific, in at least ninety per cent. of the cases in which it has been used as a remedy for those ailments, while as a preventive of all maladies generated by change of climate, sudden revulsions of temperature, epidemic poison in the atmosphere, and unwholesome water, its beneficial effects have been so obvious uniform as to secure the most perfect confidence in its properties as an antidote, safeguard and cure.
may6-deod1w&w1t.

MEANS WHAT HE SAYS.—Though "confirmations strong as proofs of Holy Writ," and as numerous as the sands on the sea shore, were produced to prove that Dr. Pierce, the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Reemdy, is in earnest and means what he says, when he offers $500 reward for any case of Catarrh which he cannot cure, yet there would be some skeptics and fogies who would continue to shout "Humbug!" "Humbug!!" "It cannot be, because Dr. Homespun says catarrh cannot be cured." Now, this Dr. Homespun is the identical, good-natured old fellow who honestly believes and persists in declaring that this earth is not round or spherical, but flat as a "slap-jack," and does not turn over, otherwise the water would all be spilled out of Deacon Bascom's mill pond. But astronomical science has positively demonstrated and proven that Dr. Homespun is wrong in supposing this earth to be flat and stationary, and medical science is daily proving the fact that he is no less mistaken and behind the times in regard to the curability of Catarrh. In short, it has been positively proven that this world moves, and that medical science is progressive—the opinion of Dr. Homespun to the contrary notwithstanding. That Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure Catarrh, thousands who have used it attest.
Then buy it, and use it, in doubt do not stand,
You will find it in drug stores all over the land.

BROWN'S HOTEL,

MACON, GEORGIA.

—o—

IF long experience and a thorough knowledge of the business in all its diversified branches are essential to the keeping that which the public has long heard of but seldom seen,

A GOOD HOTEL,

The undersigned flatter themselves that they are fully competent to discharge their obligations to their patrons. But they are not only experienced in hotel keeping—they modestly would claim to have

THE BEST ARRANGED AND MOST COMPLETELY AND EXPENSIVELY FURNISHED

House throughout, in the State, which is located exactly where everybody would have it situated, immediately in Front and Adjacent to the Passenger Depot, where travelers can enjoy the most sleep and less liabilities to be left by the perplexingly constant departure of the trains.

To all these important advantages is added a table that is well supplied with the best and choicest dishes the city and country can afford; nor would they omit to mention that their servants, trained to the business, have never been surpassed for politeness and attention to guests.

For the truth of these statements, we refer the public to our patrons who reside in every State in the Union. E. E. BROWN & SON,

EVERY DAY AN INCREASE IN FLESH AND WEIGHT IS SEEN AND FELT.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases. Eruptions, Fevers, Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

TO THE

Married, or those about to be Married.

DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, author of "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" (of which over a million copies have been disposed since first published in 1848,) desires to say to the public that he remains at same office as for upwards of twenty years, where his well known and celebrated remedies, having proved so reliable and efficient for all these years, can be obtained.

To the weakly, sickly, debilitated wife or mother, or the husband prostrated in his health, manly vigor and energies, or those suffering from indiscretions of youth, or premature old age, Dr. Mauriceau especially recommends the use of as at once recuperating the physical functions, giving health and inspiring energy to even the most debilitated, restoring the bloom of health and vigor, and elasticity and buoyancy of mind and intellect, and banishing low spirits, dyspepsia, and indigestion.

It has been introduced for upwards of twenty years and thousands are now enjoying the fullest blessings of health in mental and physical strength and powers, beauty and given these priceless gifts to their children.

It is not intoxicating, there being no alcoholic spirit in its composition, but exhilarating. It establishes the health upon a permanent basis

It gives bright eyes, clear, brilliant complexion, makes new and pure and rich blood.

It is, besides, most delicious to the palate. Price $3 a bottle, or $15 a case, containing six bottles.

Dr. Mauriceau does not intend to have "MORAND'S ELIXIR" classed among the countless advertised remedies, as its great intrinsic merit and wonderful superlative powers, as certified to by certificates, are well known. His only object is merely to announce where it can be obtained. TRAMS OFFICE and address for TWENTY YEARS 129 Liberty street, N. Y. Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, to whom all orders must be addressed. may3 w1m
